Eight Students Tapped For ODK Membership

Tampio, Nicholas, Selka Have Leads In Children's Play

"The King's Balcony," this year's annual children's show, will be presented Jan. 14 at 7 p.m. in the Main Aud., John Hepler, director of the play, announced.

This comedy was written by Philip Sheffield and is founded on the story "The Emperor's New Clothes" by Hans Christian Andersen.

King Amarath, Vince Tampio, must have a new suit for his wedding to Princess Jasmine, Marilyn Nicholas, despite the fact the Cactus, to make him a suit which will be invisible to all who are disloyal to the King. Gooseberry the Jester, Terry Schon, and Rhurbarb, the cook, Gene Rucker, all add to the plot which reaches a breaking point for all when the King goes to the parade in his invisible suit.

"The King's Balcony" will tour during the spring visiting various schools but the exact touring schedule is not known at this time.

Verlin Eash Assists In Directing Choir Sunday Evening

Verlin Eash, student conductor of A Cappella will assist Dr. James Paul Kennedy in directing the Choir's home concert Sunday night.

The program, which will be held in the Main Aud., will begin at 8:15 p.m. Members of Treble Clef will serve as ushers.

Featured in the annual concert will be a composition entitled "Sea's Devotion," written and dedicated to the Bowling Green Choir by Dean Shure, Director of Music at the Mount Vernon Methodist church in Washington, D. C.

Solo selections will be, "Credo," Winifred Hartzell; "Creation," Richard Davis; "Psalm 148," William Shambaugh; "I Wonder as I Wander," Mary Jane Palermo; "Peter Gray," Vivien George; "Ezekial," Darrel Askey; "Rock a'my Soul," Richard Dean; "Skip to my Lou," Jack Roth.

The rest of the concert includes "Blessing, Glory and Wisdom," "Misericordia Domini," "Round about the Starry Throne," and Grant unto me the Joy of Thy Salvation.

After intermission, when a voluntary offering will be taken up, the Choir will sing "The Twelve," "Soon ah will be Done," "Keys of Heaven," "Old Man Noah," "Deep River," and "Polly Wolly."

News To Publish Union Questionnaire

A questionnaire to determine what students want in the proposed University union will appear in Tuesday's B-G News.

The questionnaire has been prepared by the advisory committee on the University union, consisting of 16 student and faculty members. This group has visited unions at other universities to see what they provide. Now they wish to obtain the opinions of the needs and wants of BG students for the campus union.

By Feb. 15 the committee hopes to have its recommendations ready to be turned over to the union building committee, which will work directly with the architects on specific plans.

Richard III Tryouts To Be Jan. 13, 14

Tryouts for "Richard III," the next major production of the University, will be held Jan. 13 from 4 to 6 p.m. and Jan. 14 from 8 to 10 p.m. in 8 Gate Theatre, Robert Richey, assistant professor of speech, said.

The play may be read in any of the Shakespearian books in the library.

Anyone is eligible to try out for the production including students, faculty members, and townspeople, Mr. Richey, the director, said.

"Richard III" will be produced March 11, 12, and 13 in the Main Aud.

Senate Committee Visits Seven Unions To Study Plans

Student unions of seven universities have so far been visited by members of the student union committee of Student Senate, said Charles Green, president of Student Senate. The committee is comparing school unions for suggestions in designing the new Bowling Green student union now.

Some noted features have been bowling alleys, dining rooms, book stores, and snack bars. Incorporation of any of these and others will depend upon the joint decision of sub-committees of the student union committee.

A recommendation meeting the approval of those who admire the Nest architecture is the incorporation of the frontier theme of the Nest in a lodge-style snack bar, and it will also be called the Nest.

"The student union which best corresponds with our plans for cost and size is at Ohio University," said Green.

For the present, sub-committees are working independently on matters such as recreation and food service. There will be a general meeting of the student union committee in January, at which time views will be exchanged. It is hoped the task can be completed by spring and recommendations handed to the administration.

Documentary Film Scheduled By UCF

"And Now Tomorrow," a 75-minute documentary film, will be shown at the Sunday night program of the United Christian Fellowship, Jan. 10, in the Rec. Hall, according to John Cold, UCF president.

The film tells the story of Presbyterian National Missions in a 150-year historical panorama. It is described by "Film Daily," the "Los Angeles Daily News," and other Hollywood critics as "thoroughly interesting, documentary, fast moving, authentic, historically instructive, and good entertainment."

The story itself is of human interest nature, with touches of humor along with the serious objectives it strives to obtain, according to the Presbyterian National Missions pamphlet.

Historically, the film depicts personalities in the Presbyterian Church including the Rev. John Chavis, Princeton graduate who goes back to work among his own people on slave plantations; Samuel Worcester, jailed because of his fight for Indians' land rights; Sheldon Jackson, "the Bishop of all beyond;" Frank Higgins, the "sky pilot," and others.

Freshman Student Featured In Latest Home Ec Magazine

Joy Bush, freshman at Bowling Green and major in home economics, is the January cover girl of the magazine, "What's New In Home Economics."

JOY BUSH

The story of "Joy Bush—Outstanding Student" was presented by the Cleveland Board of Education upon her graduation from Collingwood High School, Cleveland, in the spring of 1953. This publication of a signed article by a board of education is a unique distinction, according to the magazine editor's note.

The accomplishments listed which earned Joy this distinction are many, among them her rank in the first 10 per cent of her graduating class. She received an honor key, the highest award granted at Collingwood High School, the board of education states.

Joy plans to be a teacher, the article continues, and "her hobbies include all phases of home economics work with particular attention to clothing construction. She makes most of her own and her family's clothing."

A home economics trophy for excellence in her chosen field was awarded this outstanding student at commencement. On the eve of her graduation Joy was narrator for a home economics program, "Fashioning the Future."

Joy was described as an outstanding leader, an excellent student, one who appreciates good quality and delivers excellent workmanship by the head of the Collingwood High School home economics department and seven other teachers who aided in guiding her through her home economics career.

Sports and an interest in dancing are a part of Joy's personal curriculum, the board of education states.

Law School Exam May Be Given Here In February

The Law School Admission Test, administered by the Educational Testing Service may be given here Feb. 20, 1954. A center for taking the examination will be established at the University if a minimum of 10 students notify Dr. Edward S. Claflin, associate professor of political science, prior to Jan. 16. This is the last date that a local center can be established.

The nearest center will be at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor if a unit is not located here. The test is a four-hour examination recommended by approximately 45 law schools for prospective students. It eliminates taking tests at each of the several schools that the student wants to enter.

An examination fee of $10 is required together with the application blank. Both must be received by the Princeton, New Jersey, office of the Educational Testing Service at least 10 days before the examination. Further information concerning the test may be obtained from Dr. Claflin. His office is located in the Speech Bldg.

Chicago Alumni Elect '54 Officers

The Chicago chapter of the Bowling Green State University Alumni Association has announced its officers for 1954, according to Dr. Walter A. Zangg, alumni director.

The new officers elected at a special election Dec. 4, 1953, are: Joseph T. Coale, '43, president, one-year-term; Leigh Kendrick, '51, two-year-term; Irving J. Haller, '42, corresponding secretary, two-year-term; and Peck Rose, '43, recording secretary, two-year-term.

Company Interviews Set For Jan. 13-14

Two business interview dates have been set for the week of Jan. 11, said Gene Chandler, assistant director of the Bureau of Appointments. All interested Business Administration and Liberal Arts students should make appointments for these interviews.

The companies are Inland Manufacturing Co., of the General Motors Corporation, Dayton, Ohio, which will be here Jan. 13; and the Owens-Illinois Glass Co., which is scheduled for Jan. 14. Both companies are interested in talking to students in all fields, reported Mr. Chandler.

Scholarship For Accounting Pupils Will Be Offered

A newly acquired $125 accounting scholarship has been offered to students at Bowling Green, announced Dr. B. L. Pierce, dean of the College of Business Administration. Made available by the Toledo Chapter of the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants, the scholarship may be obtained by a student for this September's use.

The Toledo Chapter has established this award to any interested student who has completed his junior year this June, and will enroll as a senior in September. The money will be applied for the payment of fees.

The scholarship will be awarded to any student interested, and capable, of becoming a certified public accountant, and who is considering it as a career.

Factors to be taken into consideration are scholarship, personality, and factors of leadership and character. It is not the intention that the award will be given automatically to the senior with the highest scholastic average. The Chapter's scholarship committee will make the final selection.

Students interested in applying for this scholarship should contact William Schmeltz, associate professor of business administration.

UCF Sends 23 To Conferences

Financial support from the United Christian Fellowship helped to send 23 Bowling Green students to three respective Christmas conferences during the holidays, the Rev. Paul Bock, UCF adviser, said.

The first Ohio Ecumenical Conference was held in Bowling Green from Dec. 28 through Jan. 2, on the University campus. It was decided to make the conference an annual event. Shirley Brechmacher, Beverly Brown, Jerry Hissong, Ray Huffman, Jerry Reed, Shirley Nelson, Charles Smith, and Betsy Sandlin were the delegates from Bowling Green.

Attending the national conference of the Evangelical United Brethren youth group, held in Indianapolis Dec. 29 to Jan. 1, were Paul Agne, Vivien George, Henry Butler, Eleanor Irvin, and Virginia Nill.

Ten Methodist students from the University attended the Methodist Student Movement national convention in Lawrence, Kans., from Dec. 28 through Jan. 2. They included John Cold, Bennett Litherland, Sylvia Zedlar, Karis Stahl, Jack Roth, Gene Beard, Beverly Knight, Helen Robinson, Robert Simpson, and Bernice Simpson.

Leadership Group Initiates Sunday

Editor's Note—We regret that due to an oversight on the part of the engraving company the picture of Roger Kasten is not available for publication.

Five seniors, a graduate student, and two juniors will be initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, men's national leadership honor society, Sunday afternoon in the Frank J. Prout chapel.

Dr. Frederick L. Hipp, who has been elected as the group's "Alumnus of the Year," will also be initiated into the local chapter.

The eight tapes, and the field of campus affairs in which they are outstanding, are:

Howard Beplat, William Bittner, and Thomas Dunford, social and religious affairs; Lester Green, Donald Packard, and Ronald Penkoff, athletics; Roger Kasten, speech and dramatic arts; and Edgar Palarea, scholarship.

Dr. Hipp Speaks

After the initiation ceremony, Dr. Hipp will give an address on "The Power of Education," and will later be guest of honor at an ODK banquet.

Dr. Hipp is executive secretary of the New Jersey Education Association. He graduated from Bowling Green in 1933, and received his doctor's degree from Syracuse University in 1939.

With "Town Meeting"

On the staff of the New Jersey Education Association since 1942, Dr. Hipp was previously field consultant for the NBC radio program, "America's Town Meeting of the Air." He was with the U.S. Office of Education assigned to adult education in New York state. He also held administrative and supervisory positions in the Indian Service under the Rockefeller Foundation.

Jerry Helwig is president of ODK, and Prof. Lloyd A. Helms, chairman of the economics department, is adviser.

Dr. Mandell Elected To National Group

Dr. Maurice Mandell, assistant professor of business administration, has recently received word that he was elected to Beta Gamma Sigma, a national honorary fraternity in business. He received it from Indiana University, where he obtained his doctorate degree.

In Our Opinion

Dimes Drive Starts

The annual March of Dimes campaign will be conducted throughout the country Jan. 2 through 31. In cooperation with the Wood County campaign, students and faculty at the University will be given an opportunity to contribute to the polio fund.

College age persons should be particularly interested in this fight against polio. The older the person when polio strikes, the more severe the affects, and 22.1 per cent of polio cases hit persons over 20 years old.

University persons might also be interested because of the scientific research involved. Last year the gamma globulin was tried for the first time experimentally. However, it has been found to have limited effectiveness against the paralytic effects of polio.

Because of its high cost and the need for a pint of blood with each injection, the use of gamma globulin has been controlled by the Office of Defense Mobilization and is allocated by the state health officer. It is hoped that its use can be doubled in the next year.

In February, a staff of independent physicians will begin a series of tests to determine the effect of vaccine as a preventative of polio. Three shots each will be given to 1,000,000 children, and these cases will be studied over a period of years.

Research is only one of the many uses for which contributions to the March of Dimes are used.

A poster, with a test tube, has been distributed to several of the larger housing units for student contributions. Money may also be given to the housemothers, who will give it to March of Dimes officials on campus, or money may be turned in at 115 Ad Bldg.

During the Chest Drive in the fall, more than $200 was collected at the carnival which will be given to the March of Dimes. Therefore no concerted effort will be made to solicit from students. However, the opportunity for contributions has been provided for all who wish to do so.

Exams Already?

Just a reminder, in case you've forgotten: exams begin in just twelve days. That means two week ends in which to get a head start on studying.

Freshman women interested in pledging will need that 2.2 to be eligible. Men who have pledged a fraternity have to make a 2.0 or better to go active. All students can profit by a few hours of extra study and review now.

Fred Majdalany's 'Patrol' Is Mature Account Of War

Sometime after every war a few novels appear whose authors have demonstrated the thoughtful, the mature, and the objective approach to war and all that comprises war. Such an author is Fred Majdalany, whose book "Patrol," recounts the brief action of a British patrol during a lull of the North African Campaign. It is a story of the middle war. "The grey middle when nobody is winning and hope is frozen."

The patrol is ordered by a stupid, prissy staff officer whose only desire is to please his superior, secure better wine for his billet, and have an impressive morning report. The ultimate cost is the lives of three men who die in the harsh coldness of the North African dawn.

In rare cases have the activities, preparations, and execution of such a patrol been so completely described. Rarely has the mind of the principle character been so completely probed. Major Tim Sheldon, an old man at 23, leads the fiasco. Months of constant duty have left him physically and mentally exhausted. He leads the patrol because he is the only fit member of the company. When he dies from a minor wound, the battalion doctor says, "There's a certain amount of stuff in a man and when it's gone, it's gone . . . he was—used up, just used up."

Mental Reactions Powerful Sheldon is the only fully delineated character in the novel. His character and personality are subtly revealed. His premonitions and fear of any responsibility are handled with restraint. His mental reactions during the long lonely and frightening 12-hour patrol constitute some of the MOST powerful writing in the novel.

Majdalany's point that the individual foot-slogging infantryman is not concerned with the over-all strategy of command. His basic preoccupation in his own personal little corner of the war. To the planners of the Grand Strategy the individual is lost in the logistical scheme of warfare. They become pin-points on a map, positions, spearheads, and troop concentrations. Yet, while the in-

Sigma Phi Conducts Sale Of Directories

Sigma Phi, recognition society for women in journalism, is conducting the sale of student directories, Carol Suttiff, president of the club, reported.

The club had the information cards for the directory printed, distributed the cards, picked them up after they were filled out, put them in alphabetical order, checked them for mistakes, and filled out cards for persons listed in the registrar's office who had not filled out one.

The reason for the late release of the directory was due to it being printed off campus and the faculty list being handed in late.

AFROTC Rifle Team To Participate In Match

From Jan. 1 to Feb. 15 the AFROTC rifle team will compete in an intercollegiate firing competition conducted by the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, according to M/Sgt. Clinton R. Shipley.

All firing will be done on resident range. Targets and scores from all the detachments will then be sent to AFROTC Headquarters in Montgomery, Ala. The highest scorers will then be eligible to compete for the national intercollegiate trophy.

Sixty Air Force ROTC cadets donated blood Dec. 8 when the Red Cross Bloodmobile unit paid its second visit to Bowling Green campus, according to Capt. A. D. Joseph Jr.

Prior to the arrival of the Bloodmobile, the need for blood was impressed upon the cadets. Blood plays a major role in saving lives during both peacetime and war, said Captain Joseph.

Letters To The Editor

Conscience Catches Culprit; Indicates Ignats' Identity

Dear Editor:

In the Dec. 18 edition of the B-G News there appeared an article concerning a fictitious Ignats (Ignations Furabashi.)

After some general introductory remarks, the article goes on to tell of the fact that the name was found to be a fake. The article explains that the whole thing was a practical joke.

The article insinuates that the joker has been found and interviewed by the resourceful B-G news staff. This is definitely false information. I am the person who put the name of Ignats Furabashi in the student directory (by means of an information card); no one from either the student directory staff or the brilliant journalists from the B-G News staff has apprehended me in any way, shape, or form. I have never said—quote your article, "I just didn't want the one student from India to feel lonely."

In fact, I had no such reasons for putting the name on the card. I merely thought it would be a good joke on the student directory staff if they were to let a fictitious name slip through. As far as my humble eyes can see, no one has been either hurt or embarrassed by the insertion in the directory.

In fact, the fictitious Ignats has turned out to be quite a BMOC. In the last week, he has received phone calls from at least 10 girls (several asking for dates); he has received two calls from male students also.

Ignats has turned out to be quite a fabulous character. We've all got quite a few laughs out of him through no harm to anyone else.

Yours for better journalism,
John J. Broom

Editor's note: We wondered whether our carefully planted trap would catch the culprit.

Dear Editor:

I would like to challenge the viewpoints of a letter that appeared in the Dec. 15 issue of this paper. The letter, by Seaman Roach of the U.S. Navy, maintained that 18-year-olds should not be given the right to vote. Sailor Roach's main argument seems to be that 18-year-olds are not intelligent enough to make wise decisions.

He states that a high school education is not adequate to prepare a person for an active voice in government; however, a college graduate has been taught enough to become a competent voter. What about the majority that never attends college? What

Official Announcements

Although Jan. 5 was designated the last day students could pay for on-campus housing for the coming semester, Dean Arch B. Conklin announced that due to the usual delay in processing, the time is generally extended.

For this reason, those rooms that have been assigned for the second semester but not paid for will be sold or reassigned on Monday, Jan. 11.

Final orientation meeting for freshman women will be held in Shatzel Hall at 4 p.m. Tuesday. The meetings are sponsored and conducted by Panhellenic council. Joyce Crede, president, urged all freshman women to attend.

BG Natatorium To Be Scene Of First Annual Swim Relays

By PETE RAY

Coach Sam Cooper's Falcon swim team will be one of the favorites in the first annual Mid-American Conference Swim Relays to be held in the Natatorium tomorrow starting at 2 p.m.

Only the four state schools from Ohio, Bowling Green, Ohio University, Kent State, and Miami, will participate in the meet, and at this point the strongest teams appear to be Ohio U. and the Falcons, with a slight edge going to the Athens university due to its squad's great depth.

However, results of swim relays are possibly the hardest to predict of all sports events. Coach Cooper explains why: "Individual performers count very little in swim relays. The team's balance and the strategy used by the coaches are the important factors. This early in the season any of the four teams is a possible winner."

Seven Events

There will be seven events in the meet. The order of events and the number of participants is as follows: 300-yard medley relay (3 men); 200-yard free style relay (4 men); 225-yard individual medley relay (3 men); Diving (2 men); 200-yard backstroke relay (4 men); 200-yard breaststroke relay (4 men); and 400-yard free style relay (4 men).

Coach Cooper will be counting on such stalwarts as Herb Scogg, Fred Gerbing, Dave Hamilton, Paul Atkinson, Paul Dressel, Jim Longnecker, Ron Dall, Bruce Horsfall, Ed Levy, Bill Cunningham, Jim Elliott, and Bill Miller.

There will be no preliminaries before this meet, which is expected to last about one hour and fifteen minutes. A five-minute break will be taken between each event to present the awards. Medals will be given to all members of the first-place relay teams. Team certificates will be awarded to the teams winning the first three places, and a trophy will be given to the high-point team.

The MAC relays are what is hoped to be the revival of the old Ohio College Relays, which were discontinued after six successful years when one of the leading teams, Fenn College, decided to de-emphasize its swimming program.

The relays will be a yearly affair to be held on the first Saturday following Christmas vacation. Each team will have a turn as the host school for the meet.

Admission charges for the relays will be 35 cents for students and 50 cents for the general public.

Canadian Team To Be Falcon Foe Saturday

Coach Harold Anderson's "on again, off again" Falcons will be out to try to compensate for their loss to Lawrence Tech Tuesday when they meet a Canadian quintet from Western Ontario University tomorrow night on the local hardwood.

Western Ontario hasn't had too successful a season so far. They dropped their opener to Canisius 76-38. Michigan Normal swamped the Canadians 74-46. The Western quintet didn't fare too well in the motor city. Wayne University slaughtered them 67-37 while the Detroit U. cagers piled up a 92-54 victory over the winless squad.

Ontario's first win came over Assumption College. The Canadians have played only one squad that has met the Falcons. Lawrence Tech smashed Western 92-57.

Although Western got off to a bad start, the team is better than the record shows it to be. Most of the team plays football and doesn't have too much time to practice or get into shape for the basketball season.

The Ontario lineup will be mixed, but the starters probably will be Ellis and Darabin at the forwards, Girvin at the pivot post, and Prouce and Getty at the guard slots.

Bowling Green will be able to start any one of seven men. Since they have the height advantage, Coach Anderson will probably switch his speedy guards and his lofty cagers in an attempt to find the winning combination. The seven men counted upon heavily are Bianchi, Gerber, Yackey, Drago, Sever, Reis, and Rogers.

The Falcons hold a 3.0 record over Western Ontario. Game time is 8 p.m.

Tech Downs Falcons For Third Setback

The high-flying Bowling Green Falcons, a remark that can now justly be expressed in past-tense, bowed humbly to Lawrence Tech from Detroit 67-60 in a loose and poorly played game here Tuesday night.

It was the visitors' ball game most of the way and there was little doubt, although some amazement, in many of the fans' minds from the start.

Walt Dzurus opened the scoring with a goal followed by a free throw from Lou Drago and a goal and a free toss by Werner Killen to put the visitors out in front 5-1.

Two Goals

In fact, the Falcons managed only two goals in over seven minutes of play in the first quarter. Gerber had both of these. There was only 2:22 left in the first quarter when Gerber got BG's first goal. Things looked a bit brighter in the closing minute of the quarter when Bianchi added a goal and foul toss to make it 12 to 11 LT going into the second stanza.

In the second quarter the Falcons really started to fold when Griffith, Westbrook, and Wulbrecht started to hit. Most of their shooting was from outside, but that seemed to make little difference in the consistency of their shots and the short but fighting bunch from Detroit built up a 34-25 halftime lead.

There was still hope in the hearts of most fans as the Bowling Green team took the floor in the third quarter. But that hope soon faded, as did every other hope throughout the evening, as the home team could only garner three points in almost eight minutes of play. All three of these were scored by Jim Gerber.

Falcons Hit

This didn't seem to affect Lawrence Tech, however, as they added 12 points in the third stanza to lead 46-34 at the end of that period.

Gerber and George Reis tried to fight back with a goal apiece but Killen started hitting from under as did Wulbrecht. Matching baskets wasn't enough to win this one for the Falcons and they could do no better than that until the final minute and a half.

BG Freshman Basketball Squad Boasts Impressive Records

Every evening from 7 to 8:30 the future varsity basketball team can be found at work practicing, learning, and hoping for the day they can join the varsity. These freshmen come from a variety of high schools, each with its own brand of play.

Bianchi hit for six points, Wally Server three, and Drago three, but the lead was too huge to overcome in so short a time.

Many of this year's freshmen had impressive records in high school, and some have been named on several honorary teams. Introducing the 1953 freshman team: Centers — Jim Sparling from Lima Central. The 6' 7" sophomore was forced to drop basketball last season after suffering a knee injury early in the year. From Massillon Washington High School 6' 6" Dick Snider. And from Columbus Central 6' 7" Luther Cain. Cain was named to last year's All-City Team.

Miles is All-State At the forwards: from Findlay 6' 3" Lanny Miles. Lanny earned honorable mention on last year's All-State team selections. From Lima Central 6' 2" Fred Zimerle. Fred also was accorded honorable mention on the wire services state-wide poll.

Bob Adams (6' 4") from Berea, Gerry Von Bergen (6' 2") from Wyoming, O., Harry Crawford (6' 4") from Cincinnati

Withrow, Don Good (6' 2") from Massillon, and Tom Gwin (6' 3") from Elyria complete the forward position candidates.

The starting guards include: 5' 9" Ted Hacquard from Portsmouth. Hacquard was named in First & Ten Magazine's All-Ohio Team, and also received honorable mention on the wire services."

No Schedule

All-State selections: Jim Tucker from Fostoria was named on the All-Buckeye League starting five, as well as a position on the All-State second team. From Napoleon, O., 5' 10" Larry Fruth was named to the Northwest-Ohio League All-Star team.

Other guards trying for starting berths include Bob Blayz (5' 11") from Swanton, Tony D'Erme (6' 1") from New Rochelle, N. Y., (5' 11") Gary Wagner from Defiance.

Although the frosh don't have a regular schedule they are presently sharing the preliminary spotlight with the junior varsity. In these games the coaches have a chance to look over future varsity material. In their first outing against Detroit U. the B-G freshmen posted a 52-51 victory in a closely contested battle.

Falcons Gain Split During Holiday Tilts

Bowling Green's cagers won 79-65 over Loyola of Chicago Saturday, Jan. 2, to give them an even split during the Christmas vacation.

Saturday, Dec. 18, an aroused Western Michigan squad handed the Falcons their second Mid-American Conference loss 85-78 in a game played in Kalamazoo.

Bowling Green started fast as Jim Gerber, Lou Drago, and Clarence Yackey scored successive field goals to open a gap that was never closed.

Bianchi Scores

The Falcons led 22-14, 39-30, and 61-53 at the quarters. Al Bianchi was ineffective the first half, but managed to tally four straight field goals early in the third quarter. At this point referee Bill Biebel banished Bianchi, the team's leading scorer from the game for disputing a decision. Bianchi totaled only 12 points, his low for the season.

The Western Michigan game was simply a case of over-confidence on the part of the Falcons. The Broncos scored at will in the first half and led at halftime 46 to 30.

Western Michigan held its lead, then went on to win as the Falcons committed numerous fouls in the closing minutes. Bianchi was high for BG with 19. Gerber scored 11 in the final quarter to bring his total to 17.

Sauter-Finegan Orchestra

AMERICA'S NEWEST, MOST COLORFUL DANCE BAND

Eddie Sauter and Bill Finegan,

leaders of America's most excitingly-different dance band, met in 1939 as struggling young arrangers. Ed had studied trumpet and drum at college, worked up to arranging for "name" bands; Bill had studied in Paris, won a spot with Tommy Dorsey. After 13 years of pooling new ideas, they formed their own band. It clicked!

Eddie Sauter says:

"I'VE TRIED MANY BRANDS, BUT I GET MOST PLEASURE FROM CAMELS. YOU WILL, TOO!"

Bill Finegan says:

"WITH ME, CAMELS CLICKED INSTANTLY. THE FLAVOR'S HOW I LIKE IT, THE MILDNESS JUST RIGHT."

For Mildness and Flavor

Camels agree with more people

THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE!

START SMOKING CAMELS YOURSELF! Smoke only Camels for 30 days and find out why Camels are first in mildness, flavor and popularity! See how much pure pleasure a cigarette can give you!

APhiO Re-elects Bertelsen; Cinema Schedules Films

Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, held elections at its meeting Monday, announced Raymond Bertelsen, president.

Bertelsen was re-elected president. Edward Thal was elected first vice-president; Richard Traylor, second vice-president; Harry Thal, secretary; William Sibberson, treasurer; Charles Williams, historian; Ralph McKinney, sergeant-at-arms; and Robert Rice, alumni secretary.

Tickets On Sale

W. C. Fields, Peter Lorre, Greta Garbo, Robert Taylor, Annabella, and Tallulah Bankhead will be featured in movies shown by Cinema Club during the second semester.

Tickets are now on sale at $3.50 for the second semester and may be obtained from Virginia Merrill, president of the club, at the University library.

Films to be shown next semester are "M," "Never Give A Sucker An Even Break," "Lifeboat," "Camille," "Le Millicen" and "Hallelujah," plus a bonus film to be shown at the end of the school year. Only at this type of organization will these films be shown.

This Monday the club members will see "The Last Command" starring George Bancroft, Evelyn Brent, William Powell and Emil Jannings. It was made in 1928 and is directed by Josef von Sternberg. On Jan. 18, the members will see a bonus film.

KAM Holds Meeting

Kappa Alpha Mu, national recognition society in photo journalism, held its second meeting, Harold Miller, president of the club, reported.

The group discussed final plans for a display of photographs in the Art Bldg.

Several activities are being planned for the year, according to Miller. One of the activities is the group's trip to Houston, Tex., for the annual KAM convention. The trip is scheduled for Easter vacation.

Other activities include making murals for display in campus buildings, taking pictures at University dances, and constructive discussions on photography.

Other officers this year are: Robert Bone, vice-president; Patricia Guthman, publicity; Stanley Richmond, treasurer; and Gretchen Van Brunt, secretary.

Accountants Hear Speech

"Public Accounting" was the theme of a speech given by Donald Rager of Peat-Marwick and Mitchell, Cleveland Certified Public Accountant firm, Dec. 16 at a meeting of Phi Alpha Chi, recognition society in accounting, said William Schmeltz, associate professor of business administration.

One of the speaker's main points in his speech was that people in accounting today are being paid as much as those in industry. They are receiving just as much chance for advancement also.

Nelson Elected

Dolores Nelson has been selected freshman representative of A.W.S. from field of 25 applicants. She represents the 600 freshman girls on and off campus. Applicants had to have at least a 2.5 average.

German Recordings Heard

Records of German music were played for the German Club, society for German students, last Wednesday at its regular social meeting. Dr. Bertil G. F. Sima, adviser of the group, said the recordings were of Christmas carols, classical, and semi-classical music.

Club Visits TU

Members of the Pro-Law Club visited the law school at Toledo University recently, said Richard Daley, president of the club.

The members sat in on law classes, were shown through the Toledo law school, and had informal discussions with law students of the university.

Dr. Zaugg Speaks At Women's Club

Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, director of alumni affairs, spoke at a meeting of The Business and Professional Women's Club Dec. 15, in Holley Hall at the new Y.W.C.A. Bldg. in Elyria. His speech was entitled "I Still Believe In Santa Claus."

Dr. Zaugg commented that he was the only man at the occasion. He later said there were about 1,000 women at the meeting.

Daley also said a trip is being planned for sometime next semester to Michigan University at Ann Arbor.

Ohio Films Shown

Members of Gamma Theta Upsilon, honor society in earth science, met in studio B of the PA Bldg., Dec. 17, to have their "Key" pictures taken, according to Dr. Lowry B. Karnes, chairman of the geography department.

From the PA Bldg. the members went to the home of Lyle R. Fletcher, assistant professor of geography, to see three films. The films were, "Oddities of Ohio Industry," "Ohio State Fair," and "Ohio's Good Earth."

After the films a business meeting was held and Dr. Karnes brought up for consideration a plan for collecting used text books and sending them to Japan. According to Dr. Karnes the members are considering the project.

Refreshments were served at the end of the meeting.

Steed Attends Convention

Stanley Steed represented Bowling Green at the district Alpha Phi Omega convention held at the University of Cincinnati Dec. 20 through 22.

Future projects were discussed at the meeting. Case Institute of Technology, Ohio State University, Miami State University, University of Louisville, and University of Cincinnati were the other schools represented.

Los Posados Dramatized

Members of the Spanish Club, society for Spanish students, and Bowling Green High School Spanish students celebrated Epiphany Wednesday in the auditorium of the Lab School.

Miss Florence E. Baird, adviser of the group, said that Los Posados was dramatized by members of the organization. Los Posados is the story of Joseph and Mary's search for an inn before the birth of Christ.

Ruth Boutet of Panama, Felix Maldonado of Puerto Rico, James Stoddard of Argentina, and Edgar Palarea of Guatemala described how Christmas is celebrated in their countries.

The game of breaking the pinata, a clay or paper container which hangs from the ceiling and is filled with gifts and candy, was played. One guest was blindfolded and given a stick with which he was to break the pinata.

Puerto Rican songs were sung and the guests were taught Spanish dancing.

The Falcon cagers won 64 straight games on the home court from 1946 to 1950.

SAE's Tip-Off Dance Held Tomorrow Night

Sigma Alpha Epsilon's twenty-second annual "Tip-off" dance will be held in the Women's Gym Saturday night from 9 to 1. The decoration theme will be appropriate to the basketball season. At the intermission, the team will be honored and the queen of the dance will be crowned.

Three one act plays will be presented at the Gate Friday night.

The movie "All This and Heaven Too" will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. in the Main Aud. Saturday night.

Department Publishes Second 'Newsletter'

The second issue of "The Clearing House," business education department newsletter, will be ready for circulation early in January, Dr. Galen Stutsman, chairman of the department, announced. Correspondence regarding the first publication, published in November, has been coming into the department with ideas and suggestions from business teachers in northwestern Ohio high schools.

Ideas and problems from teachers in the business field will be printed in future issues of the paper as an aid for those interested. Other features of interest in the field, both here at Bowling Green and in the high schools, will be passed on through "The Clearing House."

Postcards requesting information about the National Business Entrance test to be held at Bowling Green State University in the spring, were also mailed with the first issue of the newsletter. More than 25 of these cards have been returned with a preference of a day shown for the test date.

Longworth Speaks On Kinsey Report At Friday Forum

"Sex Ethics and the Kinsey Report" will be the subject discussed by Dr. Donald S. Longworth, assistant professor of sociology, at Friday Forum tonight in the UCF House at 6:30 p.m.

Nancy Kaiser, Friday Forum chairman, said that Dr. Longworth will explain how we get our ideas about ethics, what standards are used for ethics, and how ethics change. Dr. Longworth will also evaluate Dr. Kinsey's methods in getting the statistics for the Kinsey report, and will deal with the question of just how scientific these Kinsey discoveries are.

A relationship between Kinsey's writings and sex ethics will be the final evaluation deliberated by Dr. Longworth on the Forum program. All students are especially urged to attend, Miss Kaiser stated.

Camp Notices Put On Bulletin Board

A bulletin board is being set aside in the lower hall of the Women's Bldg. for notices from camps who need counselors, according to Miss Gertrude Eppler, chairman of the women's health and physical education department.

She mentioned that some job applications are in her office and interested persons may sign up there.

There are openings in private, municipal, and organizational camps.

One letter stressed that a liking for working with children is more important than a high degree of proficiency. Prospective counselors should understand several fields, such as swimming, canoeing, camp craft, and golf according to a letter.
